PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electrics do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

CHINESE CIGAR MAKERS.

A Thousand Chinese Workmen to be Sent East—A Rumored Contract Between Manufacturers and the Six Companies of San Francisco—How Chinese Cigar Makers Work.

New York special Chicago Times.

A combination of manufacturers have entered into a contract with the Six Companies at San Francisco, for one thousand Chinese to be employed in this and other cities throughout the east in the manufacture of cigars. This scheme, which threatens the livelihood of white workmen in this section, originated upon the signing by President Arthur of the Chinese bill, lately passed in congress, restricting Mongolian emigration to this country. Ninety days have been specified for the full and strict enforcement of this law. The officials of the Six Companies at once determined to take all the advantages possible of the limited time allowed. With this end in view, it was decided to import as many men from China as possible to fill the vacancies caused by the departure eastward of thousands now on the Pacific Coast. It was also arranged that the agents of the Six Companies in New York and other eastern cities be communicated with, so they might exert their influences and find a source through which cigar makers, who abound in excess in San Francisco, could be quickly hired or contracted out, so that when they were brought here their places might be filled right off by the immigrants from Hong Kong and Peking without any loss to the almond-eye race and with additional profit to the Six Companies. The agents here privately paid visits to the manufacturers in and about this city. The results of the past winter's strike among the cigar makers and their hands were still fresh, and, fearing another similar movement, and becoming aware of the vast saving that could be made by the introduction of Celestial labor, they agreed to consider the proposition for Chinese hands. After but little deliberations, and knowing that the agreement must hastily be drawn up, these manufacturers decided on the employment among them all of at first one thousand opium-eating cigar makers. These, it is said, are due here within a few days, as the time specified for the enforcement of the anti-Chinese act expires in the early part of next month. The men who are to bring the Celestials in with the poor Germans and Bohemians, who go to make up the majority of the cigar makers in this city, have been endeavoring to keep the schemes as private as possible in order to avoid any trouble. When these Chinamen are landed it is arranged to take them at once to their different quarters. These places will be fixed up in a cheap locality, where the rooms for the men to work and live in will not cost much in the way of rental. They will be paid by the piece, or hundred, as they turn out work, but in no instance will these Mongolians be paid as much as white men.

COMPETITION

The contracts, however, are not so binding as those at San Francisco, but where the men give full satisfaction, according to the terms, it is agreed to retain them on an extension of contract.

In order to ascertain what effect this remarkable phase of labor in this part of the country would have on the cigar trade, a Mercury reporter saw John Stration, who said:

"I have just returned from San Francisco, and had somewhat of a good insight into the Chinese labor agitation, and their mode of living and have come to the conclusion that there is but one side to the question. I have heard since my return here that some concerns on the West side were about to introduce Chinese cigar-makers, and I think it is the same scheme to which you allude. We would under no consideration, employ such hands, and should be among the first to discharge any such intention. These Six Companies, which are chiefly located in San Francisco, are composed of six distinct organizations, under different unpronounceable names, but coming under one control. The way they are furnishing the cigar men in San Francisco has been the means of almost whipping out of employment white hands there. When the men are contracted for at the start they go in as green hands for education as cigarmakers, with no wages for the first six months. Then during the second six months' service they are paid at the rate of ten cents a day, and at the end of a year are generally found to be proficient hands. At this time they are given wages ranging at the rate of from $3 to $4 50 a week.

"How do they live?"

"In the first place, one of them who has passed from the control of the Six Companies will hire a room at about $3 a week. In here he will place beds or boards upon which about twelve men can sleep. In this place they also live and eat. When one lot comes to sleep they are permitted to rest just eight hours. When this time expires they are aroused and the next lot in turn allowed to retire, so that all times, day and night, the work is going and the money is being made. Now, you can get white men to compete against such labor. When these Chinamen first began to make cigars in San Francisco there were none but white men at the work. To-day there are not three hundred white cigar-makers in the Golden City, and upwards of $10,000 Celestials are at present turning out the weed."

"How are these cigars disposed of?"

"Well, they have found their way out of San Francisco, to St. Louis and Texas; and up to within a year ago were shoved out of the New York market, until now the country is really glutted with such stuff. These could never be sold, I am certain, in this part of the Union without they were disguised. You see, in the cigar business a great many jobbers have been in the habit of CONCEALING THEIR SOURCE OF SUPPLY and keeping the name of the manufacturers off the cigars. If the name of a responsible manufacturer appears on the box the jobbers fear dealers might go direct to him to secure their stock. Fortunately for the leading manufacturers, we have one way to get at these Chinese people. In the manufacture of all cigars and tobacco material by law we are compelled to have our establishments registered and designated at the District Internal Revenue offices, so that when these Chinamen locate in factories here the number of their concern can be ascertained from the revenue records, as has been done in San Francisco."

The reporter next saw the President of the International Cigar Makers' Union, Mr. A. Strausser, who said:

"This scheme is evidently put under way by the Six Companies on account of the great moral influence that is being brought to bear against Chinamen in San Francisco by the passage of the act that puts a stop to their further immigration. Since the success of this move in San Francisco, I have been in receipt of many letters calling on me for white men to take the place of the rice-eaters. The people there have become completely disgusted with them. We are not really afraid of them here, because they are too slow at their work to suit the manufacturers. The only opportunity for these Chinese to take our places is when a big long strike is in progress. Then the employers will send to any place in the world to get skilled labor to pull through with. These Chinamen can only turn out from seventy-five to one hundred and twenty cigars a day, whereas the white man can make from one hundred and fifty to three hundred; and then the latter work on a good class of material and not such stuff as is handled by the Chinese. The tenement-house system has got the manufacturing of cigars in this city down to a level that that can hardly be reached, but when the question of cheapness of labor comes into consideration certainly there is no telling what may occur, for in all grades of labor.

LATE despatches concerning crops from different points in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois report, as a rule, the condition of wheat and potatoes very flattering.

OSCAR WILDE is delivering farewell lectures about the country, but if he is allowed to leave without having a couple of big sunflowers pinned or pasted to the tails of his coat, this country will be just too-too ungrateful for anything.

THE House of Representatives has passed the Legislative or salary appropriation bill and has yet to consider the River and Harbor and the Naval Bills. The River and Harbor Bill is now under discussion and will probably be disposed of this week.

An interesting case is pending in the court at Louisville. The school board claims the unclaimed deposits in the bank of Louisville. This code provides that all such sums of unclaimed money shall revert to the school fund, and hence this suit.

It is very pleasant to read of the debt being reduced by fourteen millions during April, but the fact that the government's receipts during the same period reached the unprecedented amount of over thirty-four millions is quietly ignored. That the debt is being reduced so fast is by no means a sign that our affairs are being carried on economically.

A Raid on the Plaques.

The "Secret Service" officers having been instructed to seize all engravings having stamped impressions or imitations of United States bank notes or coin, a hundred thousand "plaques" have already been taken from their possessors and destroyed. They were in use as advertising devices by tradesmen of various classes.

So Sorry.

The men were laborers on the Kentucky Central Railroad extension, and came here from Virginia. The bodies have not been recovered, as the current was so strong that they were probably carried to Kentucky river, a distance of over a mile from where the cabin stood. Great damage has been done to the fencing along all the streams in the county.

White and Kelley.

Cincinnati Enquirer, June 15th.

On more than one occasion, Representative White, of Kentucky, has broadly hinted that Judge Kelley, the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, had conspired with the distillers of the country to aid them in a relief of the burdens of taxation, and in return they were to support a continuance of the existing tariff. On a previous occasion, when the charge was more mildly made, Kelley parried it off by intimating that White was a lunatic. The Kentuckian, with the persistency of a horse-fly, returned the charge to-day, when Kelley, with much warmth, branded him either as a maniac or a liar, and White retorted that "a scoundrel may say so." The episode caused a great deal of excitement in the House, and is the sensation of the present session, which has been marked with more than one.

SWIFT VENGEANCE.

A Brutal Ravisher Hanged From A Railroad Bridge.

MT. STERLING, KY., June 15, 1882.—A negro named Jim Mitchell, well known about here as a vicious character, outraged the wife of a respectable farmer named Thomas in a most brutal manner.

The scene was only two miles from town and within two hours the wretch was in jail. The husband went through the streets swearing until the sympathy of the citizens was aroused to such a pitch that no effort was made to prevent five men who were armed with pistols, from entering the jail and forcing the jailer to deliver the victim, who was taken and hung to a railroad trestle half a mile from town.

The body was taken down this forenoon and buried by the coroner. He confessed the crime twice and was fully identified by Mrs. Thomas. Everybody fully justifies the decision, sentence and execution of Judge Lynch.

Mr. W. S. Kouns, a well known citizen of Greenup county, is in Maysville, introducing a patent drill, that will be found a valuable appliance by blacksmiths, wagon-makers, wheel wrights and others. It is simply constructed and economical in price. It may be seen at M. S. Dimmitt's agricultural implement depot on Sutton street.

Mr. Gus. Calvert, accompanied by his wife, has just returned from a fishing excursion to Kanawha Falls. He reports capturing about forty pounds of fine fish, principally bass and pike, that averaged in weight from four to six pounds. He says the hotel at the Falls, kept by Mr. Sterns, is an excellent one, and is much frequented by tourists. The charges are very moderate and the accommodations the best.

It is due to the pupils of the Maysville, Literary Institute, to state that though they generally acquitted themselves well in the very limited examinations in arithmetic and algebra, to which they were subjected, the principal deemed it best to distinguish no one in those studies, since by circumstances he was prevented from making a thorough examination.

Scence—A small lawn on Seneca street. Time—noon. Personages—A parrot sunning itself on a perch besides its open cage-door, and a strange dog wandering upon the lawn. The parrot speaks first: "Sick! sick! sick him!" The dog, with ears and tail erect, looks about for something upon which to charge. He spies the parrot, and an exciting scene ensues. From out the confused mass of dog hair and parrot feathers comes the shrill cry: "Get out! D—n you, get out!" Dog breaks for street. Parrot, after looking at herself from head to foot, gravely exclaims: "Polly, you talk too much!"

nia is even worse than our tenement-house system. For there, instead of a certain number of hands working in an ordinary room at their benches on stools resting on the floor, another tier of benches and Chinamen are fixed up over their heads on a built-up gallery that extends under the ceiling; so that, while about twenty-five hands are working in a small, close tenement-house room here, there they have as many as fifty or sixty in the same. Then here men and women in the trade live on meat and vegetables, with an odd glass of beer, whilst a bowl of rice and a pipe of opium will suffice to keep a Chinaman a day. They are all under the Six Companies, and I can say, without fear of contradiction, this concern virtually owns them like slaves, and rarely does any Chinaman know the handling of money for perhaps about three years after his arrival here, when, at the end of that time, the companies inform him that he can go free as he has paid his passage, expenses and incidentals with that amount of labor. To meet Celestial competition in the trade, the few white men in San Francisco now making cigars have formed a Union, and by medical testimony have shown where, by smoking cigars made by the Chinamen, smokers are subject to disease. The Chinese made cigars can be sold at a rate of from twenty to twenty-five per cent. lower than those turned out by white men. We will watch the advent of these rice-eaters with interest, but are almost certain no extensive sale of cigars coming from their hands can be made here, and this fact will kill the movement of the Six Companies."

The reporter also learned that a strike among white cigar makers in this city is also in contemplation, and it is not unlikely that the importation of Celestial labor is intended to head off or defeat the movement. Preparations are being made for it with all possible secrecy by the Union. They state that they will not enter upon a strike without they are fully prepared to meet long resistance. The allegation is that heretofore the cause of the striking cigar makers has always been weakened by the withdrawal or insufficiency of money for their support during the strike from the funds of the union. The aim now is to make the strikers self-supporting. For this purpose, it is alleged preparations are now being made to secure a large factory building in the city and fit it up for a cigar factory. If a strike is ordered in a certain factory, the strikers will leave at once proceed to the union factory and make cigars for a few dollars a thousand; in fact the price which will be paid them for their work is to be only sufficient to keep them from actual want. By these means the cigars made in the union factory can be sold very cheaply for cash at any time. No contracts for purchasing cigars will be made by the Union, for the reason that in case the strikers gain their end operations in the Union factory will cease at once. In case any profit is derived from the sale of cigars made, it will go into the funds of the union. It remains to be seen what effect the advent of the Chinese will have upon this novel scheme.

DON PIATT is not satisfied with this life we all live. He says: "Happy! A more miserable, soulless, non-intellectual people never existed. We live in ball-rooms and board on the streets. All the sweets of domestic life, all that 'sweet content the sage in meditation found,' all the real graces of love and beauty, of a quiet life, are denied us." Life is somewhat feverish, going on under the pressure of steam and with the speed of electricity—but it is not the dismal thing Piatt paints it to be. The difference between now and then is this: Then they stood by and looked at the flowers, and simpered over them; now we pluck the roses of content as we run, and enjoy them as keenly as those who, in times past, leisurely lingered over them.

A PINE tree uprooted by a recent inundation in Oulais, Finland, was found to have 1,029 annual rings. We saw a lady in the horse car with about the same number of rings; but she was probably not nearly so old as the tree.—Boston Transcript.

BATCHELDER'S
Ventilated Egg Case.
Patented February 15, 1881.
Indispensable to Merchants Shippers
And Producers.

THE CHEAPEST AND THE BEST.
THE ONLY PRACTICAL CASE.
The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case without rehandling.
For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.
The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.
Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.
